Cinven Invests In JAGGAER

We are delighted to announce that Cinven, a leading private equity management company, is making a significant investment in JAGGAER!

This is extremely good news for all stakeholders in JAGGAER, and not least suppliers that are enabled for various functions and features on the JAGGAER ONE platform. The injection of fresh capital will accelerate our aggressive product development strategy and enable us to ramp up R&D and deliver more value, faster to our customers, partners and suppliers.

Cinven is a leading private equity company. This investment is a vote of confidence in JAGGAER's current strategy and leadership, as well as the strength of the JAGGAER ONE roadmap, which has already won much acclaim from analysts, media and customers. Release 19.2 – with Promotional Pricing – Coming Soon!

Our second scheduled Product Release of this year, Release 19.2, will be available in your JAGGAER Supplier Portal starting Sunday, July 21, 2019. With that, you will be able to load promotional pricing for your hosted catalog products!

With this Release, you will be able to load promotional prices effective over specific time period. The key feature being that they will be automatically approved. Note that;

- A new checkbox will be made available when creating price type submissions to load promotional pricing
- Only price decreases will be accepted as promotional pricing
- Multiple promotional price sets can be created, as long as their effective time periods do not overlap
- Regular price set can be loaded only after the promotional pricing ends. If multiple promotional price sets have been loaded, last one will be considered.
- The promotional price set will be automatically approved but if desired, the client can reject it at any time

For specific details about promotional pricing and other functionality, such as enhanced reporting, that will be made available in this Release, please refer to the Release Notes, once the Release is available, by clicking here. This page provides Release Notes for previous Releases as well. Note that as part of such major Releases, we also make any updates as needed to various reference documentation made available in your JAGGAER Supplier Portal so be sure to use latest versions of such documentation.

Results of Second DCE for Your Hosted Catalog(s)
