JAGGAER Security Update About Emails

In a continued effort to enhance JAGGAER's IT security, we will be migrating our email servers from DKIM 1024-bit to DKIM 2048-bit encryption on January 11, 2020. Increasing the level of encryption helps JAGGAER meet current security standards and better protect ourselves and our suppliers from email spoofing. There is no action required on your part to accept a DKIM encrypted email with a 2048-bit encryption key.

JAGGAER does not anticipate any negative impacts to our suppliers by making this change but please forward the following technical details to your IT Department so that they may review.

Technical Details: DKIM is a technical standard used by JAGGAER today, that helps protect email senders and recipients from spam, spoofing, and phishing email campaigns. DKIM allows an organization such as JAGGAER to take responsibility for transmitting a message in a way that can be verified by an email recipient. DKIM adds a signature to an email message that can be validated by the recipient against a public cryptographic key obtained from JAGGAER's Domain Name System (DNS) records. If you need further help, please generate Supplier Support request using the web link at the end of this message. Please mention "DKIM encryption" in the Details field.

Time for 'Faces of the Aces'!

Actually, it is time to wish 'happy holidays' to all of you – the suppliers in our network. We are just taking the opportunity to show you the faces behind the phone calls and emails! You are an important stake holder in the world of JAGGAER Procurement Applications and we hope we served you well during past year. If we failed to meet your expectations, we apologize but can assure you it was not for lack of effort. In the coming year, we will continue to build more functionalities in the application to close any gaps and improve your user experience.
