Supplier News - March 2021

Results of Data Completeness Evaluation

We have completed the first Data Completeness Evaluation of the year for your hosted catalog content. Hosted catalog content as of 31st January 2021 was considered for this evaluation. As you are aware, such evaluation brings out any data gaps in your hosted content. Link for the Data Completeness Report (DCR) that provides summary of the evaluation for your catalog has been made available in the email message text. Note that if you have multiple catalogs, a separate DCR is generated for each of the catalog.

An overview document provides details about the evaluation as well as summary of results across all catalogs. Please click here to download the overview document.

View Your Catalog Products in SampleSQCustomer Site

The SampleSQCustomer site has been set up so that you can experience the JAGGAER Procurement Application from a buyer's point of view. Credentials to access this site have been provided in the email message text. Note that if you have a hosted enablement with a live customer, you can also view upto 100 products from your catalog in the SampleSQCustomer site. So when you review your DCRs, keep in mind that you can possibly view your own catalog products just as the buyers view them.

Updates to Promotional Pricing Coming in Release 21.1

As a part of the upcoming Product Release 21.1, we are making some enhancements to the visibility of promotional products to buyers. Promotional pricing lets you load a discounted price for selected catalog items for specified time period. It gets auto-approved and so is available to your buyers right away. Now, an icon will clearly indicate to buyers about such promotional price in effect, along with the discount and the duration of the promotion.

The 21.1 Product Release will be available on 11th April 2021. We will make Supplier Release Notes available with details about this new feature as well as other supplier Portal relevant enhancements.
