

JAGGAER One Sourcing for Direct Materials

Streamline and automate complex direct material sourcing processes

Manufacturers are grappling with an array of challenges in sourcing raw materials, semi-finished goods, and production materials in general. Obstacles range from inflationary pressures and heightened post-pandemic price volatility to supply chain disruptions triggered by natural disasters and geopolitical tensions. These price amplifying factors present significant hurdles for manufacturing companies in cost management and maintaining supply chain stability.

Furthermore, ensuring supplier reliability and quality control remains of paramount concern to manufacturers, particularly those who source from multiple suppliers across multiple regions. Environmental, sustainability, and compliance concerns add further complexity to these challenges. Overcoming these hurdles demands strategic planning, robust risk management, supplier diversification, and innovative technologies to fortify supply chain resilience.

Direct material procurement is critical for manufacturers, as delays or disruptions can negatively impact production, finished goods output, ability to sell, and therefore: revenue. Buyers must order the right items from the right suppliers to avoid excess inventory and obsolete stock, which affect both top-line revenues and net profits. As a result of continued supply chain challenges, direct procurement has become a board-level concern. JAGGAER One enables customers to reduce risk, improve resiliency, increase operational efficiencies, and yield significant financial gains with comprehensive solutions tailored to the unique source-to-pay needs of each enterprise.

JAGGAER One Sourcing for Direct Materials revolutionizes procurement by empowering buyers to manage complex sourcing for direct materials and facilitates buyers to:

- Quickly create and run RFx events from updated and latest version of Bills of Materials
- Gain speed and transparency from real-time ERP integration
- Stay ahead of organization ESG goals and track supplier carbon emissions
- Ensure real-time collaboration and communication with suppliers
- Ensure adherence to project timelines and allocated budgets
- Enable cost reduction with optimal supplier selection through target-based comparisons and TCO analysis
- Manage risks and avoid fraud with third-party supplier intelligence

JAGGAER One Sourcing for Direct Materials guides customers from event creation to awarding with purchase requisition collectors and RFQ wizards. It allows buyers to design and manage their own cost breakdown structures, monitor supplier participation and progress during events, and communicate via a message area to resolve technical issues, publish clarifications, or respond to supplier questions. Additionally, it evaluates supplier responses and bids using auto scores, scenario comparisons, and cost breakdown analysis. The platform assists buyers in awarding the best suppliers through multi-supplier awarding or split awarding, and it allows the conversion of sourcing awards into contracts or purchase requisitions with real-time ERP integration.

JAGGAER One intelligent system provides customers with a comprehensive sourcing overview and analytical insights into their transactions, events, and sourcing awards, enabling them to make informed decisions using AI-based supplier selection, AI-based recommendations, and an auto-select lowest price feature, ensuring that data drives their success.
